COMMISSIONER ROPER TO QUIT HIS STRENUOUS TAX GATHERING

Internal Revenue Head Finds Task of Enforcing Dry Law Too Trying

CRAVES PRIVATE LIFE

Choice of Successor Will Precipitate a Lively Contest For Place

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28. — Daniel C. Roper, commissioner of internal revenue has tendered his resignation to President Wilson.

Commissioner Roper has asked that he be relieved of his duties by April first, but has agreed to hold office until June first, if the president so desires.

He gives as his reason for resigning his desire for returning to private life.

Commissioner Roper has found his increasing duties a bit strenuous, as he is charged with the duty of collecting taxes and the enforcement of the prohibition laws. The prohibition enforcement task has been a stupendous one and Commissioner Roper has experienced considerable difficulty particularly in guarding millions of dollars worth of intoxicants now held in storage.

Rules and regulations laid down for the prohibition enforcement by Commissioner Roper have been most stringent and he has been severely criticized in some quarters for his interpretation of the law.

A lively contest for the appointment of a successor to Roper is expected by both the "wets" and "drys," bringing great pressure to bear upon the president to secure the appointment of a man who has views which accord with their own.

Commissioner Roper was in New York today. It was learned that his formal resignation has not been submitted but he has informed the president of his intention and has asked for instructions as to when the formal resignation shall be made effective.

Commissioner Roper, whose home is in South Carolina, has been in the government service for more than 25 years. He has been connected with congressional committees, the census bureau and has been first assistant post master general and vice chairman of the tariff board. He was in charge of organization work for the Democratic party during the 1916 campaign.

PLANS DRAWN UP FOR THE MASONIC HOME TO BE BUILT

Plans, almost complete, for the new Masonic temple to be constructed in the near future on the site purchased by the Masonic bodies, at the southwest corner of Walnut and Seventh-sts are in the hands of the building committee, it is reported. Members of the committee are silent on the subject.

Another site, the Hay property on the west side of south Fourth-st between Main and Walnut-sts has been purchased by a number of prominent Masons, who, it is said, are favoring a proposal to change the site of the new home to the Fourth-st location.

It is understood that the membership of the Masonic bodies have not voted on the latter proposition, and that the original plans to erect the home at Seventh and Walnut-sts will be carried out.

STATE'S RIGHTS ON BOOZE LAW UNRECOGNIZED

Violators of Half Per Cent Law Will Be Punished In New Jersey

STATE HAS 3.5 LIMIT

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—The law passed by the legislature of New Jersey permitting 3.50 per cent beer will not be recognized by the federal government.

The bureau of internal revenue today issued a statement declaring that violators of the federal prohibition law permitting but one half of one per cent of alcohol will be prosecuted in New Jersey despite the law passed by the state legislature.

The statement issued by the bureau of internal revenue was as follows:

"The bureau of internal revenue is charged with the enforcement of the national prohibition act which definitely prohibits the manufacture and sale for beverage purposes of all liquors containing half per cent or more of alcohol by volume.

"This being the case, the manufacture and sale of 3½ per cent beer which is permitted by the bill passed by the New Jersey legislature is in direct violation of the federal statute. All persons therefore who are found guilty of this violation of the federal statute will be proceeded against to the limit of the law."

Assistant Postmaster at Rudy, Arizona, Shot Down By Greasers As He Defends His Office—Brother May Die From Bullet Wounds—No Official Report Late Saturday On Which Washington Can Base Action

NOGLAES, ARIZ. Feb. 28. — Alexander Frazier, mining engineer and assistant postmaster at Rudy, Arizona was killed in a raid across the border by Mexicans today. His brother, John Frazier is in a critical condition. Both were shot by the Mexican bandits when they attempted to defend themselves and protect the office from the raiders who were bent on looting the safe.

The Mexicans dashed across the border just before dawn and swooped down on the postoffice building where the two men were sleeping. No effort to surprise the Americans was made, the bandits approaching the building noisily and with automatics in hand. They were met with a stream of bullets from the guns of the Fraziers, which it was hoped would frighten the marauders away.

Instead they withdrew for a hasty consultation, after which they rushed to the building shooting as they ran toward the windows and doors.

A steady stream of bullets from the Frazier guns met them, but failed to halt the advance of the Greasers who forced the door and entered after silencing the defending guns.

Only a small quantity of small change was secured by the bandits before they withdrew across the border, leaving Alexander Frazier dead and John Frazier seriously injured.

A detachment of U. S. cavalry troops stationed at Cameron, Arizona was despatched in pursuit of the bandits, but it is believed they escaped. A squad of inspectors was sent to Rudy by Postoffice Inspector Morse of this district before noon today. Details of the crime were telegraphed to Postmaster Charles Fay, of San Francisco, with instructions to relay the information to the postoffice department at Washington.

Late Saturday no official information of the raid had been received at Washington from the scene of the crime.

Information reaching the press was secured by telephone from Tucson, Arizona.

Declare America's Foot Will Be Kept Free of European Trap

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—A charge by Senator Hitchcock, the administration leader that the Republican side sought to destroy the treaty and "hamper and defeat the efforts of the president to bring about world peace at the peace conference" plunged the senate into a stormy debate this afternoon.

It comes with poor grace from Republican senators who did all they could to destroy the influence of the president while he was laboring in Paris for the recognition of the 14 points to charge he didn't succeed in all his altruistic ideals. Hitchcock said, "What did you do in those days to help the president. You stood here and criticized him and by your votes and utterances sought to discredit him."

Senator Kellogg, Republican, Minnesota, one of the "mild reservationists" asked Hitchcock to point to one instance where he, Kellogg, had sought to "hamper the president."

"The senator was one of those who joined in a conspiracy to stuff the senate foreign relations committee with enemies of the treaty," retorted Hitchcock, referring to the Republican control of that committee.

"The senate knows that is not true" was Kellogg's angry rejoinder.

BROTHERHOOD

The crest and crowning of all good, Life's final star, is Brotherhood. For it will bring again to Earth Her long-lost Poesy and Mirth; Will send new light on every face, A kindly power upon the race. And till it come, we men are slaves, And travel downward to the dust of graves. Come, clear the way, then, clear the way; Blind creeds and kings have had their day; Break the dead branches from the path; Our hope is in the aftermath—Our hope is in heroic men. Star-led to build the world again, Make way for Brotherhood—make way for Man! —Edwin Markham.

NO HEALTH OFFICER YET APPOINTED FOR DISTRICT OUTSIDE OF COSHOCTON

Lack of Funds Seems to Hold Up Carrying Out Provisions of the Hughes-Griswold Law—Failure of Consolidation Leaves Very Unsettled Situation

County health affairs in the district outside of the City of Coshocton are still in a somewhat muddled condition following the failure of the merger of the city and outside districts.

The Hughes health law, as amended by the Griswold act, has been complied with to the extent that the district advisory council, composed of the chairmen of the trustees of the townships and the mayors of the municipalities outside of Coshocton, has elected a district board of health, composed of H. L. Sicker, J. E. Hahn, L. G. Marple, Dr. Nathan Hammond and Dr. U. G. Marquand, but thus far the district health board has not appointed a health commissioner, who must be a physician.

Section 1261-24 of the new law says "If the state commissioner of health shall find that the district health commissioner or the members of the board of health of a general or city health district, or any member thereof, has failed to perform any or all of the duties required by this act, he shall prefer charges against such district health commissioner or such members of the board. If they are found guilty they may be removed from office and a new board or new members to fill the vacancies shall be appointed."

The greatest difficulty in carrying out the provisions of the new law seems to be the lack of funds in the different townships. An average of about $25 per township seems to be all that is available for health purposes and this would hardly be adequate to employ a physician as health commissioner and a nurse and clerk, altho the state will furnish an equal amount up to $1,000.

Section 1261-40 of the new law says "The board of health of a general health district shall annually, on or before the first Monday of April, estimate in itemized form the amounts needed for the current expenses of such district for the fiscal year beginning on the first day of January next ensuing. Such estimate shall be certified to the county auditor and by him submitted to the budget commissioners which may reduce any item or items in such estimate but may not increase any item or the aggregate of all items. The aggregate amount as fixed by the budget commissioners shall be apportioned by the county auditor among the townships and municipalities on the basis of the taxable valuations. The district board of health shall certify to the county auditor the amount due from the state as its share of the salaries of the district health commissioner and public health nurse and clerk, if employed, for the next fiscal year which shall be deducted from the total of such estimate before an apportionment is made."

OAKLAND, Calif., Feb. 28.—C. S. Morrill, son of Augustus Morrill, murdered by Mexican bandits near Colima, Mexico, is in receipt of a telegram signed "Oldenborg," dated Colima, confirming the fact that Morrill had been murdered.

COUNTY HOME GETS LIGHTING SYSTEM; 45 RESIDENTS NOW

William McCann, 74, was removed from his home on Coshocton Route 5, north of the Warner church to the County Home Saturday by Superintendent C. A. Giffen and County Commissioner Scott Davis. Mr. McCann has grown feeble and was unable to care for himself. His wife died a few weeks ago at the late home.

There are now 45 residents at the County Home. There is little or no sickness there, according to Superintendent Giffen.

A new Delco lighting system is being installed. There will be 100 lights for the 60 rooms and barns. The electric energy will be used for light only.

The advisability of changing the location of the home was suggested Saturday by Superintendent Giffen, who stated that he had urged the county commissioners to dispose of the present farm at a sacrifice, if necessary, and purchase better land. He believes a better farm would be self-supporting and would be a better investment for the county.

"It is almost impossible to cultivate the land we have out there," Superintendent Giffen remarked. "It is too steep and poor. I have talked the matter over with the commissioners, but they feel that a change would not meet with the approval of the people of the county."

RELATIVES OF FLU-STRICKEN FAMILY ARE BEING SOUGHT

Relatives of the James Felton family six members of which have succumbed to influenza and pneumonia within the past five weeks, are being sought in vain by local authorities.

The father, James Felton, had been employed on the Murray farm in Mill Creek. It is said that he has relatives in the Walhonding vicinity but thus far they have not been located. It is reported that pitiable destitution prevailed at the Felton home near Fleming's Corner between Keene and Clark at the time disease stalked into the home. It is said that windows of the house were broken out and the ten members of the family were without proper food and clothing. They received little help as very few people knew of their destitute circumstances. The township trustees were notified of the situation and two nurses were sent to the home. Two weeks ago on a bitter cold night three of the children, critically ill, were brot to the City hospital in Coshocton and the father and four children were brot the following day.

Two of the surviving children, Eleanor, 14, and Ralph, 6, were in a critical condition at the hospital Saturday night and it was feared that Eleanor could not recover.

CRITICALLY ILL

Mrs. John Groce, who has been removed to the home of her father-in-law, Porter Groce on Pine-st, seriously ill from pneumonia was reported very low Saturday night.

THIS CONNECTICUT PARSON IS KEEPING HIS FLOCK SHORN

MIDDLETOWN, Conn., Feb. 28.—In these days, when a haircut—gosh ding it!—costs 50 cents, if a fellow has the price, the roads are piled so high with snow that it is hard to get to the barber shop from the back districts. So Rev. George R. Gilbert of this city, an Episcopal missionary, who visits Ninevah Falls, Roast Beef Hill and other out-of-the-way districts down country by automobile, has taken to cutting hair, along with preaching the gospel. When the parson's auto is heard chugging past one of the county school houses the teacher hurries to the door to "flag" him, so to speak. Thereupon he comes in and cuts the children's hair without charge. He says that it is just as important to shear the locks of his flock as it is to "temper the wind to the back of the shorn lamb," and they look a lot handsomer after the job.

SWALLOWED ALL OF WET EVIDENCE

CLEVELAND, O., Feb. 28.—Albert Chattingworth swallowed the evidence in a prohibition enforcement case, but the police got it out of him—with a stomach pump.

When Harry Weiss was brought into court here today on a charge of selling liquor the police produced a chemist, a city physician, a small bottle of liquor and Chattingworth.

The police charged that when they raided Weiss' place Chattingworth quickly swallowed a large drink of whiskey to prevent its use as evidence. Not to be outdone, the police rushed Chattingworth to the city hospital, where the stomach pump was applied. The evidence thus produced with the expert testimony was held sufficient to convict and Weiss was fined $150 and costs.

BOSSIE TERRORIZES CITY PEDESTRIANS

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 28.—A mad cow, running amuck in one of the city's streets here today, made a direct attack on John Harvey, carrying a milk bottle, tossing him up in the air.

When Harvey returned to earth, the cow again gave him a boost skyward. When he alighted the second time he decided he had sufficient rides for one day and hurried home, severely bruised from being prodded by the cows horns.

Two policemen were informed of the cow's antics. They found the cow frothing at the mouth, running round the street madly. They cornered the animal and got a rope about its neck. The cow charged on one of the policemen who grabbed its horns and played the forehead act, throwing the cow to the ground. His partner tied the bovine's feet. The cow was then removed to a barn nearby.

DISASTROUS FIRE AT HANOVER, OHIO

Fire originating from a defective flue in the Libbey restaurant threatened for a time to destroy the village of Hanover, Licking county, at five o'clock Thursday afternoon. The flames soon spread to the former postoffice building and both were burned to the ground. Efforts of a bucket brigade to fight the flames proved of no avail and a motor fire truck from Newark was rushed to the village. The Newark firemen kept the blaze confined to the two buildings.

The buildings destroyed by the flames were owned by Dr. Robert Hanover and the loss was partially covered by insurance. The restaurant fixtures and equipment were a total loss, while the postoffice building was unoccupied.

Jiffy-Jell made with Sun-Maid Raisins or None Such Mince Meat. Made with Style C Mold—Pint Size.

Half a Pineapple

Crushed to Flavor One Jiffy-Jell Dessert

Here is one example of the wealth of fruit in Jiffy-Jell desserts.

We crush pineapples in Hawaii—fruit too ripe to ship. The juice of half a fruit is condensed and sealed in a vial to flavor one pint dessert.

Yet the whole dessert costs but a few cents, ready at your call.

So with eight rich fruits which come in Jiffy-Jell. All are made from crushed fruit, all are abundant. All come in liquid form, condensed and sealed in glass—a bottle in each package.

Real-fruit flavors in bottles

Mark this Jiffy-Jell distinction. Note how it differs from old-style quick gelatine desserts. Jiffy-Jell alone has these bottled fruit-juice essences.

Jiffy-Jell desserts are fruit-made dainties, rich in fruit. The fruit taste is not mere flavor and not artificial.

People need fruit daily. Now, when fruit is costly, this is an ideal way to serve it.

Complete desserts

Jiffy-Jell comes ready-sweetened. It is acidulated with evaporated fruit acid. A rare-grade gelatine is in it, and the fruit-juice essence in a vial.

You simply add hot water as directed on package, and let cool. Then a package of Jiffy-Jell serves six people in mold form, or twelve if you whip the jell.

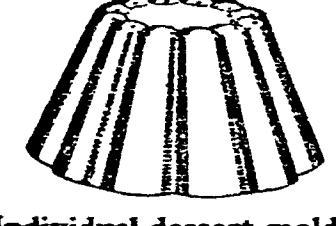

Yet this fruit-made dainty, rich in fruit, costs a trifle. It costs less than serving apples.

'Twill delight you

Try Jiffy-Jell in various fruit flavors. Try lime-fruit flavor for a tart green salad jell. Try mint for a mint jell to serve with meats.

Learn what these dainties mean to you. Compare them with old-style desserts of this type.

We offer you choice of several 30-cent molds if you will do this, and at once. Cut out our offer so you won't forget.

Income-Tax Facts You Should Know

In these days of high rentals and excessive cost of maintenance and upkeep, both landlords and tenants are inquiring as to their allowable deductions in the filing of an income-tax return.

Where property is held for renting purposes the owner may deduct the cost of securing tenants, such as commissions to real estate agents, advertising, etc., and the expenses of maintenance, such as ordinary repairs, lights, fuel, janitor service, and insurance. If the owner occupies part of the building as his dwelling, the expenses must be apportioned, and only those relating to the part which is rented may be deducted.

A tenant may deduct the rent paid for business premises, but not his home, which is a personal or living expense.

ADDITIONAL RENTAL
Taxes paid by a tenant to or for a landlord for business property are additional rent and are deductible by the tenant. Such items represent income to the landlord, and therefore must be included in his return of gross income, but may be claimed by him, also, as a deduction. The cost of erecting buildings or permanent improvements on ground leased by a taxpayer is additional rental and therefore deductible from gross income, provided such buildings and improvements revert to the owner of the ground at the expiration of the lease. In such cases the cost of the improvement may be prorated over the term of the lease so that a proportionate amount will be deducted in each year of the tenancy.

Having deducted the cost of such buildings as rental, the lessee is not allowed a deduction for depreciation, but the cost of ordinary repairs necessary to their maintenance and upkeep is an allowable item.

When at the expiration of the lease such property reverts to the owner of the land its value is considered taxable income to the landlord for the year in which received.

DEPRECIATION ALLOWANCE

Under the heading of "Depreciation," owners are permitted the deduction of "a reasonable amount for the exhaustion, wear and tear of property used in trade or business, including a reasonable allowance for obsolescence." This deduction must be made as a separate item of the return and must be explained by showing separately each class of property, its cost or value at the date of purchase (on or before Mar. 1, 1913, if acquired on or before that date), estimated life, depreciation charged for the taxable year, and total depreciation charged for all taxable years. To be allowed, the amount claimed for depreciation must be charged off the books of the taxpayer, either by deducting it directly from the book value of the assets or crediting it to a depreciation reserve fund so that it will be reflected in the annual balance sheet.

Depreciation may be claimed on all business property, which includes not only buildings but machinery of a permanent character, automobiles, farm tractors, mine and mill equipment, office furniture, and books. The rates at which depreciation is allowed are not fixed by the law or regulations and are determined by the circumstances governing each particular case. The ordinary method is by determining the lifetime of the property and dividing its cost by the number of years it will be usable in the business in which employed.

Deductions for depreciation are limited strictly to property used in the taxpayer's trade or business. No such allowances are made for automobiles or other vehicles used chiefly for pleasure, the taxpayer's dwelling, nor the furnishings therein, personal effects, or clothing. Property or clothing used exclusively in a theatrical business, however, may be the subject of a depreciation allowance.

Intangible property, the use of which in trade or business is definitely limited in duration, may be made the claim for a depreciation allowance. Examples are patents, copyrights, licenses, and franchises. Intangibles, the use of which is not so limited, will not usually be the proper subject of such an allowance.

PRESS IS SPLIT ON ADRIATIC PROBLEM

LONDON, Feb. 28.—If President Wilson desires, it is in power to make the new Adriatic negotiations fruitful, of settlement, but no candid person can forget the doubt inspired by the president's first note as to whether he really wants this settlement," said the Chronicle today in its comment upon President Wilson's note of February 24.

The Times declared that the president's note "is not very agreeable reading to the allies."

Some of the newspapers, in commenting upon the whole exchange of notes with President Wilson took the view that "the premiers have now backed out of their false position."

6th St. Theatre

Minstrelsy has ever been the most popular amusement with all classes of theatre-goers, and those especially who are fond of this class of entertainment are looking forward to the engagement of the greatest minstrel organization of all, Clarkson and Hill's Mastodon Minstrels, the show that stands alone in being headed by a triumvirate of star performers: Billy Woodall, Lou Worth and Bert Devore, and a supporting company of half a hundred funmakers selected from the front ranks. A few years back the trio mentioned was at the head of the best minstrel shows of the day, then vaudeville claimed them and for several years the electric lights in front of the Keith theatres and those playhouses on the United Time blazoned forth their names, then Clarkson and Hill, adhering to their principle to establish and maintain the best minstrel show in the country, went beyond anything ever before attempted by a traveling organization and paid the salaries necessary to secure these particular stars.

The engagement here is for Tuesday night, March 2nd, and it will be readily seen that the management offers real value for the money, as the prices have been set at 25 cents to $1.00. The elaborate street parade and hand concert at noon are well worth watching for.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Feb. 28.—Whatever may have been the activities of the alleged "barrel" in the Newberry senatorial campaign of 1918, the purchase of automobiles was not one of them, it was brot out at the Newberry trial today. Kolster, editor of the State Journal of Lansing, he put in a bid for an automobile to aid him in campaigning for Newberry, but was refused and given $200 instead. Chester Weems, a former reporter on the State Journal, corroborated this in direct testimony.

Various other witnesses testified today that they received small sums for campaign work on behalf of the Michigan senator.

THE FAILURE OF HALF DEMOCRACY

THE current issue of The World Tomorrow publishes an article from the pen of Horace A. Eaton entitled "The Failure of Half Democracy." It should have a sobering effect on every reader who has a genuine desire for the democratic principle in government to win. He says in part:

During the last months even the most hopeful have awakened to the fact that we are not ready for a true and lasting peace. The peace we have now is a failure because we did not a generation ago make democracy an honorable political fact. Therein lies the great unpreparedness of the Allied Nations in 1914 and 1916 as well as in 1919.

It requires but little reading in political history of the last fifty years to see how far wrong democratic nations—even the best are but partly democratic—could go. Even we, in our own United States, have not always treated our weak neighbors with disinterested forbearance; and some of our Allies are not less guilty of self-seeking, of high-handed and unjust action. We have all done unto others what we would not have had others do unto us, with the pharisaical assumption that our interests have been of more value to the world than those of our neighbors.

The history of democracy consistently fails to show that popular government has been assiduous in spreading the democratic idea thru high and noble example. It fails to show that popular government necessarily means national and international righteousness. With a century of opportunity, the democracies of the world have neglected to prepare in the right way against the dangers that have threatened the very existence of the democratic principle itself.

Let us suppose that the liberal nations of the world had been dedicated to their high mission; let us suppose that they had established, even thru the last quarter of a century, a new standard of international relations, a standard of righteousness and fair dealing, suppose that all nations, big and little, white and black and yellow, had come to recognize that they could always get a square deal from the democratic states of the world, that they could count upon just trade conditions, disinterested adjustments of boundaries, a readiness to discuss honestly publicly, and with the will to front-up all possible dangers—had democracy done all this it would indeed have been making the world safe.

But, alas, there was no such preparation. The out-thrust principles of competition prevailed; the nations relied upon their strength, not upon the power of justice, till, were the names deleted from the records, the future student could not tell which were the victorious, which the vanquished nations in the various struggles. The world was for the strong and wily, and the devil might take the hindmost.

The principles of democratic justice and freedom have never been given a fair chance. Had they been fairly tried the world, have we no world war. Democracy would have conquered before it foundered, it would have based upon the self-interest of a few, would never have been able to give to its victims the need for a vast military force with which to defend its fatherland. And these self-seeking governments would have been brought down by the irresistible force of real democratic decisions and action. But we will not say that pure democracy principles were ever tried. Democracy has never been a reality in autocratic uniforms, and the present debate is the measure of their failure.

We are all guilty, for we have failed to take up the task which, unfortunately, has been put upon us. I have no reason to believe that the world is as deep and burning as hell, the nightmare for things done and for things undone, the ponder a few unbel of and in a way which has made it impossible to this last year of our time.

But penitence is futile if it does not come with a will to change the conditions of existence. The failure of democracy in the past is a warning of weakness and insignificance in the future about the world war point the way to the new conditions which the world must make if it is to have a better world after the war. These great lessons of the past must be learned and put into the liberal world; must be made active in the thought and speech of our leaders of opinion; must be effective on congresses and newspapers; must be fixed as unshakable convictions in the consciences of the nations.

Wisdom we must have, and forbearance; generosity, and, above all, the will to love.

BANDIT KILLED IN A BLOODY BATTLE

AUGUA PRIETA, Mexico, Feb. 28.—In what was described as one of the bloodiest battles ever fought in southern Mexico, Jesus Sildago, bandit was killed by Carranza troops, it was officially reported here today.

Heavy losses were sustained by both sides in the battle which took place at La Cavallera.

Sildago had taken possession of the mines at Campo Morado, from which he obtained great quantities of silver. This he shipped to San Francisco, realizing large sums of money which he used to finance his revolt.

WALT MASON IN CUBA

Where Cuba does the ocean, John Barrymore is gone, to offer men a portion from his old demagogue. Some souls may find it handy to call for Cuba's show, and get a swig of brandy or maybe three or four but Cuba seen wild waves of opening her gates to platters of gold and heavy to stowed hangover. And she will say to Jeanette, the Parisienne, "And take out your baggage, my dear, and close your social point. Your feeble hand waters, yep, but it's a rather way free!" And strangers, word and frisky whose brain's politics are are coming here for whiskey from a most everywhere, they come from western valleys, from eastern hills and dale, they're sleeping on air, they're decaying in our jail. They spoil the reputation of this our fragrant city, they're bringing tribulation to folk, who for wind smile. So take your liquor your poisoned forty drops, and do not stop to buckle but fast to hop the boys. No moral country wants him, no island, bay or cape, his doom pursues and haunts him, and hangs on him the crime.

FORGERIES FOUND ON PETITIONS OF FORD'S OPPONENT

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Feb. 28.—More than 100 signatures to petitions signed in behalf of the 1918 senatorial campaign of James W. Helme, alleged to have been backed by the Newberry organization to beat Henry Ford were identified as forgeries from the pen of Richard Fletcher, a Newberry lieutenant at today's session of the Newberry trial.

Several witnesses did the identifying, but the most important testimony was given by Francis B. Courtney, land writing expert of Detroit, who analyzed the signatures from the witness stand and pronounced them as having been written by Fletcher.

The government now claims to have evidence that fully three-fourths of the names on the petitions were forgeries. A portion of today's session of the Newberry trial was turned into a "photography" with the handwriting of Richard Fletcher, state law commissioner, and a Newberry lieutenant, furnishing the curriculum. Francis B. Courtney, Detroit handwriting expert, was expected to testify that the handwriting on petitions circulated during the 1918 campaign in behalf of James W. Helme, who is alleged to have run in the Democratic primary as to "box" Henry Ford, is identical with that of Fletcher.

For Gen. Pershing

LANSING, Mich., Feb. 28.—Petitions for the placing of the name of General John J. Pershing on the primary ballot in Michigan at the April election as a candidate for the Republican nomination for president were filed today with the secretary of state. The signers were all from Port Huron.

IMPORTANT! A SUGGESTION

A BUILDING before the war was worth $10,000. Today the same building is worth anywhere from $17,000 to $20,000. If it should burn, the owner would get little, if any, more than half its value.

You need hardly be reminded that the replacement cost of all buildings and commodities has advanced to such an extent that unless you have proportionately increased the total amount of insurance carried on your property, you are today greatly under insured. If this is the case and your policy contains the Reduced Rate Contribution Clause (generally but erroneously called the Co-Insurance Clause), you would be a loser in event of fire, no matter whether your damage be heavy or slight. Even your good judgment will tell you that you do not want your property under insured.

Ask this office at once what you should do about it. We are at your service and glad of the opportunity to advise you.

CURED HIS RUPTURE

I was badly ruptured while lifting a truck several years ago. Doctors said my only hope of cure was an operation. Trusses did me no good. Finally I got hold of something that quick ly and completely cured me. Years have passed and the rupture has never returned, although I am doing hard work as a carpenter. There was no operation, no lost time, no trouble. I have nothing to sell, but will give full information about how you may find a complete cure without operation if you write to me, Eugene M. Pullen, Carpenter, 203 F. Marcellus Avenue, Manassas, N. J. Better cut out this notice and show it to any other who are ruptured—you may save a life or at least stop the misery of rupture and the worry and danger of an operation.

A THEORY AND A PHILOSOPHY THAT APPEALS TO REASON

DIS EASE

The theory and philosophy of Chiropractic is so plausible that it should appeal to your reason. The teaching of the science which places the nervous system (brain and nerves) as fully in control of the body, that makes the operation of the human body or machine dependent upon the normal delivery of nerve energy to each organ as the vital power that operates them should open up a new field of thought to you, which has never been presented through the study of any other science. There was a time, as in the beginning of a science when some looked upon Chiropractic thru a pair of bifocal lenses the upper plus prejudice the lower plus lack of investigation, but results are becoming a demand with the people and Chiropractic has developed upon its merits. We are rapidly being ushered into a new era. Let us forget the past and its failures to remove the cause of disease and accept new truths as we find them all for the benefit of suffering humanity.

Remove the Cause of Disease Permanently. Give Nature a Chance.

Come to my office and let me explain this wonderful health science to you FREE of charge. A spinal analysis now may be the means of saving you years' of suffering.

Republican, of Idaho, one of the "irreconcilables" opposed to ratification and Hitchcock "have combined to defeat the treaty."

"The Republicans drafted their reservations on the theory they were dealing with a lot of criminal cut throats and confidence men," Hitchcock charged. He challenged the republicans to point to a single reservation proposed by them that would be helpful to the league or the prevention of peace.

"All these reservations were drafted on the theory that we are innocent lambs about to be thrust into a menagerie of wild animals," Hitchcock added.

The Adiratic dispute was made a vehicle for criticism of President Wilson by both Republican and Democratic senators opposed to ratification.

Senator Hitchcock offered a sub for the fourth Lodge reservation, dealing with Democratic questions, discussion of which was resumed this afternoon.

Sensors on the Republican side have done everything to antagonize and incur the enmity of the nations with which we were associated in the winning of the war, Hitchcock said.

"May I ask the senator," began Senator Reed, Democrat, Missouri, an "irreconcilable" opposed to ratification.

"I don't want the senator to ask me anything," Hitchcock retorted as he refused to yield to Reed.

"Is Japan becoming a Democracy?" persisted Reed, a few moments later.

"It is rapidly becoming a Democracy," Hitchcock replied.

"Then I am rapidly becoming an angel," responded Reed.

one inch of the butt, take another grain, then turn the ear another fourth around in same direction and take a grain one-half of way up the ear, turn the ear another fourth around and a grain about one-half inch from the top. This will make a sample of six grains, and will represent every part of each ear. All six of these grains should put forth good strong sprouts if the ear is the best seed, and no ear should be used unless at least five of these grains put forth very vigorously.

Time to Seed Sweet Clover
Many inquiries in regard to the time of seeding sweet clover have come to our office and we will answer these in one article if possible. The unhulled, unscarified sweet clover should be seeded early in the winter, as it needs the freezing and thawing to scarify or crack the seed hulls. In such a way that they will grow when the spring time comes. A good time to seed is some time before the holidays when you have a good tracking snow so you can see where to go. The scarified seed may be sown at the same time or a little earlier than red mammoth or alsike clover.

Other Clovers
The best time to seed red clover or mammoth clover is when the ground is in excellent condition along about the first of April or the last part of March. The best method is to sow broadcast and harrow in with a light spiked harrow, with teeth slanted slightly back or with a regular grass seed drill, either of these methods will save you about 15 per cent of your seed.

The Loss
The loss in the other two methods occurs in the following way: If the clover is seeded on the honey comb ground it will be frozen in and most likely some of it will be in a critical dough when we get our Easter or late spring freeze, and year after year the loss from these sources will average about 15 per cent, sometimes more and sometimes less.

The other method is to scatter the seed on the cracked ground along about the first of April. In this method even tho the ground is cracked, ideally there will be some of the seeds remaining on top. The first shower will cover that in the cracks and also sprout what remains on top, and the next few days of dry weather will kill the sprouted seed remaining on top. The average loss from this will run about 15 per cent.

The total annual loss to farm crops in the United States is estimated at $1,104,869,700.

SUFFRAGE LEADERS SEE EARLY VICTORY

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28. — National leaders in the women's suffrage movement expressed confidence today that the constitutional amendment will soon be ratified by the necessary 36 states.

But three states are needed in the ratification column now to bring this about and the leaders are concentrating on the states of West Virginia, Washington and Delaware and Connecticut.

REASON FOR TROOPS WILL BE EXPLAINED

MONTESSANO, WASH., Feb. 28. — The prosecution today will make known its reasons for calling upon the governor to furnish troops to occupy this city during the remainder of the Centralia murder trial.

Judge Wilson has instructed George F. Vanderveer, attorney for the defense to prove first that Lieut. Warren O. Grimm, who was killed in the street fighting at Centralia, participated in the alleged raid on the I. W. W. hall. Vanderveer will present his evidence on this score at today's session.

In 1918 only 110,618 aliens came to the United States, the smallest number since 1862.

The Russian village is built principally of wood and roofed with wood, or with straw and stones. For this reason there are so many fires that, according to statistics, one-fifth of all the peasant cottages burn down every year, or putting it in another way, every house burns down after five years. This seems improbable, but it is reliable information.

98% Metal

A Maxwell is 98% metal, and the very best metal that metallurgists can specify. Pound for pound it equals the metal in any car built.

The Maxwell is made of light-weight but strong metals.

They had to be light because the mission of the Maxwell is economical transportation.

They had to be strong because the Maxwell is built to carry just as heavy a passenger load over the same roads and at the same speed as any car, despite its price or size.

Any engineer will tell you that in getting that rare combination of strength with lightness high prices must be paid for the metals.

Their use, however, repays the makers of the Maxwell in many ways because each car each day is winning friends.

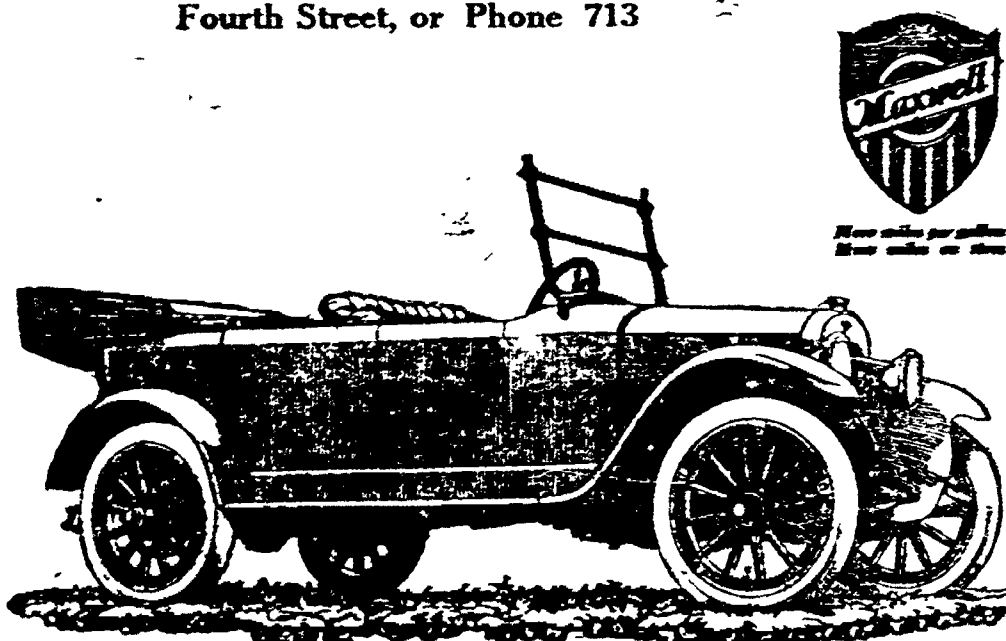

Today these friendships, expressed in terms of cars, are well on the road to 400,000.

You cannot go back of these numbers any more than you can go back of the fact that the sun rises in the morning.

They tell the story, and it's largely a story of what the Maxwell is made of—fine metals.

Seed Corn

Corn planting time is coming. Are you sure of your seed corn? Last fall most corn got dry and then it got wet again, and some of it froze while in this wet condition.

If wet corn is frozen the germ is killed and the seed will not grow. This was brot to our attention by a number of poor tests having been made during the last few weeks. This condition was brot to us very strikingly in the spring of 1918. Mr. Alton Hill and Francis Yoho had several bushels of old corn from the 1917 crop. This old corn was in the bottom of the crib, and the new corn was thrown in on it. As a result the old dry corn absorbed moisture from the new corn and froze while moist. Hence the seed was injured to such an extent that it would not grow, in the old as well as in the new. I do not say this to scare anybody in regard to the seed corn situation but the conditions are such that every person who did not field select their seed corn last fall, and have it perfectly dry and kept it in this way should test their seed thoroughly before planting. You know there is nothing that can remedy a poor stand of corn or make the field in which it is planted bring a larger yield.

We will be glad to test a limited number of samples at the office of the Farm Bureau during the next few weeks.

Method Of Testing

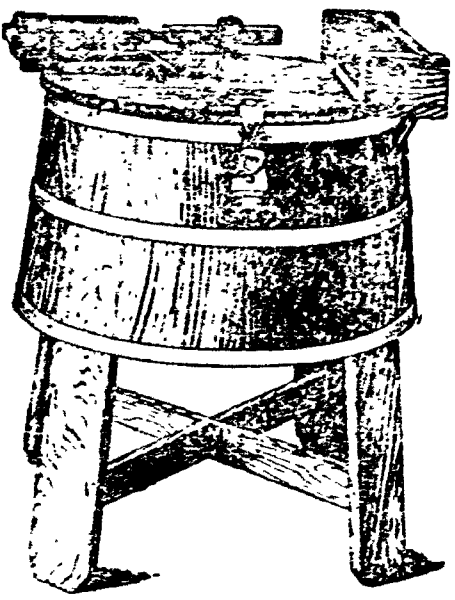

The Rag Doll method is one of the easiest to use. Take a piece of white cloth, mark it off in squares, two by two inches. Number these squares from one up, and take the sample of seed from each ear, and place it on the numbered squares. Now put the same number found on the square on a small piece of paper and pin it to the ear by running a nail into the pith of the ear. As soon as the sample is placed in the Rag Doll tester the cloth should be rolled up forming a neat round roll which should be placed in a glass fruit jar in some warm place, and the lid should be screwed on fairly tight. This will prevent the escape of moisture giving you an ideal condition of germination.

The best way to take a sample from an ear is to take one grain out about an inch from the butt, turn the ear one-fourth around and take a grain out one-half of the way up, then turn the ear another fourth around and take a grain about one inch from the top. Drop straight down to within

RAIL STRIKE IN FRANCE GENERAL

PARIS, Feb. 28.—Leaders of the railway men's union claimed today the rail strike had become general throughout the whole of France. The executive committee of the union, which has been holding secret meetings, announced officially that a general strike order had been issued. They declared that it "had generally been obeyed."

The strike leaders rejected Premier Millerand's proposal to return to work and arbitrate with the government after two days.

Troops have been put on guard all along the railway lines.

The government was reported this afternoon to be mobilizing the employees of all of the railway lines.

L'Intransigeant understands that the leaders of the extremist element of the strikers are planning to extend the strike to include miners, dock workers and metal workers. This newspaper demands the immediate arrest of the leaders.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—A tie-up of railroad lines between St. Louis and Chicago, is threatened as a result of the action of the Illinois Terminal Company in notifying all women employees in its offices at Alton, Illinois, that their services will not be needed after March first.

Most of the women given notices are members of the Brotherhood of Railroad Clerks. The grand lodge officers of the organization now meeting here are taking up their case and may notify the company that all union employees will stop work if the women are not hired.

Officials of the organization stated today that the union would not stand for sex discrimination.

How Signs Of Old Age Creep Into Your System When The Iron In Your Blood Runs Low

For Want of Iron, You May Be Old At Thirty—Nervous, Irritable and All Run-Down—While at Fifty or Sixty, With Plenty of Iron in Your Blood, You May Be Young in Feeling and Brimming Over With Vigor and Energy.

IRON IS THE RED BLOOD FOOD

That Helps Strengthen the Nerves, Restores Wasted Tissue and Aids in Giving Renewed Force and Power to the Body. Physicians Explain Why Administration of Simple Nuxated Iron Often Increases the Strength and Endurance of Delicate, Run-Down People in Two Weeks' Time.

Old age has already sunk its talons into thousands of men and women who ought still to be enjoying the springtime and summer of life simply because they have allowed worry, overwork, nervous strain, dissipation and occasional poisons to sap the iron from their blood and destroy its power to change food into living tissue, muscle and brain. You will find plenty of people at 40 who are broken in health and steadily going downward to physical and mental decay while others at 50 are strong, active, alert and seemingly growing younger every year. One class withers and dies like leaves in autumn while the other by keeping up a strong power of resistance against disease may pass the three score and ten mark with surprising health, strength and vigor. But you cannot expect to look and feel young and vigorous unless you have plenty of iron in your blood, and physicians explain below why they prescribe organic iron—Nuxated Iron—to supply the iron deficiency in the weak, nervous, and run-down so as to build them up into stronger, healthier men and women.

"Many a man and woman who ought still to be young in feeling is losing the old-time vigor and energy that makes life worth living simply because their blood is starving for want of iron," says Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly Physician of Bellevue Hospital (Outdoor Dept.), New York, and the Westchester County Hospital. "Thousands are aging and breaking down at a time when they should be enjoying perfect health because anemia—lack of iron in the blood—has fastened its grip on them and at among their strength, vitality and energy. For in my opinion you can't make strong, keen, forceful men and healthy rose-cheeked women by feeding them on metallic iron. The old forms of metallic iron must go through a digestive process to transform them into organic iron—Nuxated Iron—before they are ready to be taken up and assimilated by the human system. I strongly advise

YOU ARE AGING
If you are weary by the activities of your daily life

YOU ARE AGING
If your skin is shrinking and your face looks wrinkled, careworn and old

YOU ARE AGING
If you have lost the spring of your step and your movements are cumbersome

YOU ARE AGING
If you are in all cases to get a physician's prescription on Nuxated Iron. If you don't want to go to this trouble, then purchase Nuxated Iron in its original packages and see that this particular name (Nuxated Iron) appears on the package. If you have taken preparations such as Nux and Iron and other similar iron products and failed to get results, remember that such products are an entirely different thing from Nuxated Iron.

Dr. George H. Baker, formerly Physician and Surgeon, Monmouth Memorial Hospital of New Jersey, says: "From a careful examination of the formula and my own tests of Nuxated Iron, I feel convinced that it is a preparation which any physician can take himself or prescribe for his patients with the utmost confidence of obtaining highly beneficial and satisfactory results."

Manufactured by Nuxated Iron which has been used by Dr. Sullivan and other physicians with surprising results. It is a secret remedy, but one which will cause no drugstore everywhere. Unlike the other iron products, it is easily assimilated and does not cause the stomach, make them black nor upset the stomach. The manufacturers guarantee, moreover, that it will not cause any of the side effects of other iron products. It is designed by all good druggists.

Then came those three awful strokes which affected my whole body. Even my speech was affected and I couldn't move without the aid of one of the old men in my family. But I naturally ambitious, this worried me terribly—My helplessness was pitiful and I naturally thought I was done for."

Y.W.C.A. NEWS

By E. E. FARQUHAR

The first party given by the association for the girls of Coshocton high school was thoroughly enjoyed by 75 girls at the club rooms Friday evening. Interesting games entertained the girls throughout the evening and each girl who was present Friday night is anxiously awaiting the date of the next party.

Supper parties are becoming more and more popular at the club rooms. Among the parties of last week was one given Saturday evening by the following girls: Miss Imogene Dawson, Miss Flora Kline, Miss Cora Hall, Mrs. Fred Vensel and Miss Nora Whiting.

The committees that met the latter part of the week have some interesting things to report. The Religious Education committee met Friday evening and it is completing plans for a course of Bible lessons. All the girls who have been members of former Y. W. classes will be interested in knowing that more classes will be organized in the near future.

The membership committee met Saturday afternoon. The committee discussed plans for the national convention to be held at Cleveland in April. Each association is allowed one delegate for every 100 voting members. Coshocton will have 11 delegates present at the convention.

The general education committee has some interesting reports from the meeting which was held Saturday afternoon at the club rooms. The members of the committee have completed plans for a course in millinery which will be in charge of a local milliner. The course will consist of 12 lessons and a registration fee of 25 cents will be charged. The first lesson will be held at the club rooms on Monday evening, March 8. Girls here's your chance to learn how to make a beautiful spring bonnet. Better get a good start so as to make certain your hat will be in all readiness for Easter.

The committee assures us that a Girl's Glee club will surely be started just as soon as a piano is placed in the rooms.

All the girls are anxious to see our ukelele club become one of the best in the Ohio-West Virginia field. The general education committee says we are coming along nicely and it feels certain that the Coshocton club will be a real success. If you own a "ukelele" bring it down to the club rooms and tell Miss Aves or Miss Murray (or both) that you want to join the Coshocton Y.W.C.A. ukelele club.

Perhaps one of the most interesting things the general education committee has to report is the class in current events or forum which will be organized in the near future. The committee has planned for a meeting every two weeks, the dates of which will be announced later. The first class will be held Monday evening, March 8, when Mr. T. L. Montgomery, of the Coshocton National bank, will talk on "Banking Principles with which women should be familiar."

The rooms will be open Sunday afternoon from 2 to 7. A most cordial welcome is always handed you at the Y.W.C.A. Drop in and get acquainted with Miss Aves and Miss Murray and the girls of the city.

The board of directors will meet Tuesday evening at 7:00.

NEW PHILA WINS AN EASY VICTORY

C. H. S. varsity basketball team was easily defeated by the New Phila boys by the score of 62 to 14 in a one sided contest staged at the Central gym Saturday evening. The Phila boys were on their toes from the sound of the gong to the blow of the whistle. The local boys showed poor form and baskets were made by the Phila boys about at will. Hall, the little C. H. S. center, was the only life of the team. The local boys' team work was far below the standard. A shake up in the lineup will be made before the team tackles the next opponent, Coach Karsch said Saturday night. The girls game scheduled with the Mt. Vernon team was cancelled on account of the increasing number of flu cases reported in that town. The audience was disappointed when the announcement was made. The local girls have a record of seven straight victories.

No more games have as yet been scheduled by either of the teams.

SUPREME COURT TO RESUME MAR. FIRST; WILL SIT TILL JUNE FIRST

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—The United States supreme court will resume its sessions next Monday after a recess lasting thru February. With the exception of a short recess over the easter holidays the court will continue, it is said, in regular session until June when the regular summer recess, lasting until October will start.

Many important decisions are expected from the court at an early date. Among the expected decisions are those in the anti-trust cases against the coal carrier railroads, where in the government seeks a separation of the business of transportation and of mining and sale of coal, the validity of the federal law imposing a special tax on the product of child labor on mills, mines and quarries, and the liability of stock dividends under the 1916 revenue law to the income tax.

The validity of the prohibition amendment will be not before the court during the coming session. Preliminary arguments in the case have been set by the court for hearing March 8, after other matters on the calendar previously set for that date have been disposed of. The solicitor general of the United States will reply to the brief filed by the state of Rhode Island to which have been connected other complaints to the court attacking the amendment, which charges the unconstitutionality of the amendment, the invalidity of the Volstead enforcement act and seeks to enjoin the government from enforcing the Volstead law and to have it declared null and void. The government will insist that the supreme court is with out jurisdiction in the issue raised by Rhode Island. If this contention is upheld, by the court there will be no trial of the Rhode Island case on its merits.

PHILADELPHIA, PA. Feb. 28.—American dyes are being used on an extensive scale in the laboratories of the Henry Phipps Institute here in an effort to discover a cure for tuberculosis.
